

5 Mistakes to Avoid in the Stock Market

(A Thread for Beginners)

1. Over Leveraging

One of the biggest blunders in the share market is to enter with borrowed money. Start with your money, even if the capital is small.

2. Following the Experts Blindly

It's wise to listen to an expert's advice but never follow them blindly. Do your own research!

3. Not being Disciplined

Being disciplined is crucial in the stock market. If you've entered a stock for investing, then ensure you don't switch it for trading. Know the difference between investing and trading!

4. Getting Lured by Cheap Stocks

Cheap stocks are always attractive, but know the difference between price and value and invest wisely!

5. Averaging your Losses

Averaging is okay when your purpose is to invest. Averaging losses while trading is one of the biggest mistakes!
